

TowerJazz Announces Successful Completion of its Offer for Accelerated Conversion of its Series F Convertible Bonds, Reducing Debt by $80 Million

March 26, 2015

Oversubscribed Offer Allocated on a Pro-Rata Basis

Company's Debt Reduction Results in Stronger Balance Sheet Financial Ratios and Shareholders' Equity and Positively Impacts Future Profitability

MIGDAL HAEMEK, Israel, March 26, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- TowerJazz, the global specialty foundry leader, today announced the successful completion of its previously announced accelerated conversion offer for its outstanding Series F convertible bonds. As of the expiry date of this offering on March 25, 2015, the aggregate subscription demand amounted to approximately NIS 327 million of the Company's Series F convertible debenture, representing 109% as compared to the NIS 300 million offered and accepted (approximately $80 million). As the offering, which was limited to a maximum amount of debt eligible for conversion under of approximately $80 million, was oversubscribed, the offer was allocated to the subscribing holders on a pro rata basis, as set forth in the offering documents.

As a result of the accelerated conversion, the Company's debt is reduced by approximately $80 million thereby significantly improving its balance sheet, financial ratios and future profitability, including the saving of approximately $10 million of interest payments during the years 2015 and 2016.

The exchanged Series F convertible bonds have since issuance carried a coupon of 7.8% per annum and the ordinary shares underlying such bonds, totaling approximately 8.6 million, have since 2012 been almost entirely included in the Company's fully diluted share count. As a result of previous conversions and the accelerated conversions pursuant to the offer, the remaining outstanding principal amount of Series F convertible bonds has been reduced to approximately $35 million, as compared with an aggregate $231 million principal amount of the bonds originally issued.

This press release is not an offer to sell or a solicitation of an offer to buy the securities of Tower and shall not constitute an offer, solicitation or sale in any state or jurisdiction in which such an offer, solicitation or sale would be unlawful.
